

Pushing Past the Limits of Cancer Care

Every day in Southwest Virginia, someone faces a life-changing cancer diagnosis. When that happens, they need exceptional care—fast and close to home. Our region has a unique opportunity to transform how, and where, we treat cancer while improving patient outcomes in our communities.

The nation's best cancer centers excel in three essential areas: exceptional clinical care, pioneering research and training the next generation of specialists. The Carilion Taubman Cancer Center will be among the best, uniting all three to significantly advance the landscape of cancer care, and drive essential initiatives for patient care, research and economic development.

“For too long, cancer care in this region has been defined by its limitations. This project is about rewriting that story.”

– DR. WILLIAM FINTEL
MEDICAL DIRECTOR OF HEMATOLOGY AND ONCOLOGY
CARILION CLINIC

Advance Treatment Through Innovation

- Cut time between diagnosis and treatment through streamlined, coordinated care
- Expand access to clinical trials, including groundbreaking “first-in-human” studies
- Create dedicated innovation spaces where clinicians and researchers foster the discovery of new therapies
- Deepen research partnerships and collaborations

Attract World-Class Talent

- Recruit nationally recognized specialists focused on specific cancer types
- Retain top oncology specialists drawn to our region for its renowned expertise
- Build comprehensive programs allowing specialists to offer the latest treatment options available
- Provide advanced technologies and research opportunities that appeal to leading physicians/scientists

Create a Healing Environment

- Design clinic spaces where specialists work side by side to create personalized treatment plans
- Integrate support services like nutrition, counseling and rehabilitation
- Provide natural light, outdoor spaces and comfortable treatment areas
- Offer dedicated spaces for family support and education

Train Tomorrow's Cancer Specialists

- Expand oncology education programs for medical students
- Significantly expand research opportunities for students, residents and fellows
- Create new fellowship and residency opportunities
- Provide hands-on experience with the latest treatments
- Retain top medical talent in our region

Your Support Matters

The Carilion Taubman Cancer Center is a promise to our community. Every element supports our mission: ensuring that those facing cancer have access to exceptional care, breakthrough treatments and unwavering support, right here at home. Help us rewrite the story.

To make a donation, please visit us online at carilionfoundation.org or call (540) 224-4544.